'Keep up the good work.'

'My children enjoy their learning of RE. They are curious about religion, often asking further questions at home about what they are learning in school. The school clearly has strong Christian values evidenced in their high expectations of the children's behaviour. Both of my children are developing morally and socially as it teaches them kindness, respect and empathy.. My children value collective worship which is clearly embedded within routines of the school. The partnership the school has with the local church is wonderful and allows my children to develop a spiritual vocabulary and a sense of community + belonging.'
