Introduction

Supporting PSHE teachers working with pupils with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) in both special and mainstream settings is a key part of our work. This updated version of our Planning Framework for Pupils with SEND accompanies the 2026 edition of the Programme of Study KS1-5 and is fully aligned with the Department for Education’s statutory Relationships, Sex and Health Education \(RSHE\) guidance, for implementation from September 2026. We have mapped the content grids from the statutory guidance to the Planning Framework, and adapted learning outcomes appropriately in cases where statutory content may not be accessible for pupils with SEND.

This Framework also supports schools to provide a comprehensive PSHE programme that integrates, but is not limited to, statutory RSHE content. ‘The world I live in’ section covers aspects of PSHE relating to careers education, economic wellbeing, and preparing for adulthood. Though not yet a statutory part of PSHE education, this learning is critical to support different levels of independence for pupils with SEND, as well as helping schools to meet the Gatsby Benchmarks for careers education as part of the Careers strategy. The Framework supports you to plan, assess, monitor and evidence progress and achievement in your pupils’ PSHE education.

How the PSHE education Planning Framework for Pupils with SEND is organised

The Planning Framework has six sections:

- 1. Self-awareness
(Me, who I am, my likes, dislikes, strengths and interests)
- 2. Self-care, support and safety
(Looking after myself and keeping safe, including online)
- 3. Managing feelings
(Understanding feelings, emotion regulation skills, and how feelings can affect choices and behaviour)
- 4. Changing and growing
(How I and others are changing; new opportunities and responsibilities; managing puberty and reproductive health)
- 5. Healthy lifestyles
(Being and keeping healthy, physical activity, food choices and hygiene routines)
- 6. The world I live in
(Managing money and aspirations for work; living confidently in the wider world)

Grids for each section identify learning opportunities in progressive stages, starting with the first stage, ‘Encountering’, through to the final stage, ‘Enhancement’. Each stage builds on the one before, while allowing pupils to access the content at a stage that is most appropriate to their learning needs. This progression assumes that the pupil can meet the previous stages’ outcomes, and in some cases introduces new or additional learning in successive columns.

Encountering	Exploring	Foundation	Core	Development	Enrichment	Enhancement
Effective engagement in the learning process	Exploring key themes of learning	Underpinning learning	Fundamental learning elements	Increasing understanding of learning	Deepening an application of learning	Applying learning in different contexts

Depending on the level of special educational need, pupils may be able to work only within the learning outcomes of one stage, (e.g. Encountering or Exploring). However, some pupils may be able to work progressively across the seven stages with regular opportunities for revisiting and consolidation of previous outcomes, as they mature through school. In this way, the framework could be adapted for groups of pupils or used to create a bespoke learning programme for individuals.

Introduction

Meeting the RSHE statutory requirements

There are references at the end of each learning opportunity to show which statutory RSHE content it addresses. Where there is no reference, this learning should be considered non-statutory (although in many cases, still essential learning). The letters in brackets correspond to the statutory RSHE guidance sections as follows:

KS1 KS2		KS3 KS4 *
Relationships Education		Relationships Education
F Families and people who care for me CF Caring friendships RKR Respectful, kind relationships OSA Online safety and awareness BS Being safe		F Families RR Respectful Relationships OSA Online safety and awareness BS Being safe ISR Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health
Health Education (Health and wellbeing)		Health Education (Health and wellbeing)
GW General wellbeing WO Wellbeing online PHF Physical health and fitness HE Healthy eating DATV Drugs, alcohol, tobacco and vaping HPP Health protection and prevention PS Personal safety BFA Basic first aid DB Developing bodies		MW Mental wellbeing WO Wellbeing online PHF Physical health and fitness HE Healthy eating DATV Drugs, alcohol, tobacco and vaping HPP Health protection and prevention, and understanding the healthcare system PS Personal safety BFA Basic first aid DB Developing bodies

Please note, whilst there is no statutory content for key stage 5 in the RSHE statutory guidance, RSHE is statutory at key stage 5 for schools with a sixth form, and all post-16 settings are encouraged to continue this learning in post-16 education.*

Most young people live their lives both online and offline, and most topics within statutory RSHE have a digital aspect. Whilst some sections of the planning framework (such as ‘Keeping safe online’ and ‘Online habits’ for KS1-2, and ‘Safe online communication’ and ‘Online harms’ for KS3-5) are explicitly focused on this, it should be assumed that learning in all sections applies to online contexts as well, even when not explicit.

As empowering pupils with SEND to seek help in different situations is crucial to their learning, this updated edition includes sections focused on ‘Getting help’ in the Self-awareness sections; SA6 for KS1-2 and SA5 for KS3-5. These demonstrate how help-seeking skills can be explicitly taught, rehearsed and embedded across the seven stages from Encountering to Enhancement. Whilst you may dedicate some specific teaching to help-seeking, it is essential that these skills are revisited and rehearsed in all lessons and within the context of particular topics and should not be treated as a standalone theme.

Introduction

Using and adapting the Planning Framework for Pupils with SEND to support your PSHE provision

The Planning Framework is intended as a guide to the possible content of a spiral PSHE education programme (including statutory RSHE) for pupils with SEND. You are free to use it flexibly, adapting it to the unique needs and abilities of your pupils, as their development will not necessarily correspond to their chronological age or their key stage, in many aspects of their learning in PSHE education. For example, you might need to draw on learning outcomes from key stages 1 and 2 for some pupils in key stage 3 or 4.

We have provided a suggested primary and secondary long-term plan to help you organise this content across age groups and in each half term. We offer these long-term overviews as a possible starting point rather than to be followed rigidly. If they are useful to you, please feel free to adapt and implement as best suits the needs of your pupils.

The Framework may also be used to help audit your school's current PSHE provision by mapping your curriculum or schemes of work against the Framework content and then adding to or updating your schemes of work as necessary. The Planning Framework may be further modified and adapted to pupils' needs by:

- Breaking down the learning outcomes into smaller steps so that they form the basis of a lesson or series of lessons.
- Revisiting, reinforcing, consolidating and generalising previous learning, as well as introducing new concepts, knowledge and skills.
- Focusing on one aspect or a limited number of aspects within each stage.
- Revisiting content through cross-curricular learning and/or through other activities in school.
- Offering both explicit and implicit learning opportunities and experiences which reflect pupils' increasing independence (where applicable).
- Incorporating the seven stages into school assessment, so that pupils' progress can be monitored within lessons and over a period of time.
- Including different sensory experiences at the encountering, exploring, foundation and core levels tailored to individual pupils.
- Providing opportunities both in and out of school to promote physical, social and emotional understanding and put learning into practice.

In mainstream settings, the framework can be used to support pupils with SEND by:

- Using the planning framework to tailor learning that best matches the PSHE topic being taught to the rest of the class.
- Using the learning outcomes to support targets and identified areas of need in a pupil's Education, Health and Care plan (EHCP) or to set Individual Education Plan (IEP) targets.

Key Stage 1-2

KS1

KS2

We have provided a suggested primary long-term plan to help you organise content across age groups for each half term. This follows a thematic approach, with each suggested age group learning the same theme at the same time. Content is organised sequentially, building on prior understanding and supporting pupils to overlearn, revisit and embed messages across their time learning PSHE at school. However, we recognise that all special schools vary greatly and will want to organise their curriculum differently, responding to the needs of their individual pupils and specific cohorts. We offer this long-term overview as a possible starting point rather than to be followed rigidly. If it is useful to you, please feel free to adapt and implement as best suits the needs of your pupils.

We have provided a suggested secondary long-term plan to help you organise content across age groups for each half term. This follows a thematic approach, with each suggested age group learning the same theme at the same time. Content is organised sequentially, building on prior understanding and supporting pupils to overlearn, revisit and embed messages across their time learning PSHE at school. However, we recognise that all special schools vary greatly and will want to organise their curriculum differently, responding to the needs of their individual pupils and specific cohorts. We offer this long-term overview as a possible starting point rather than to be followed rigidly. If it is useful to you, please feel free to adapt and implement as best suits the needs of your pupils.
